WING WILL HEAD MEMBERSHIP DRIVE FOR COMMERCE CHAMBER

Prominent Paper Manufacturer Agrees to Take Charge of Campaign—Two Green Bay Men Will Deliver Addresses—Reservations for Dinner Monday Night Received by Powell at First National Bank

William C. Wing, Park avenue, president and manager of the Fox River Paper company, has accepted appointment as manager of the membership campaign for the Chamber of Commerce which it is proposed to organize at a meeting of Appleton men at Elk Club Monday evening. The appointment was offered Mr. Wing by the men who are instrumental in formulating the plan of organization and was accepted yesterday.

The tentative plan is to open the membership campaign with the meeting Monday evening and continue the remainder of the week until Saturday night. Several methods of canvassing the city have been proposed but none have been definitely accepted. It is probable several plans will be submitted at Monday's meeting and the best will be adopted.

It is probable, however, that all the plans will involve the appointment of teams which will make a thorough canvass of the city. Each team will probably be headed by a captain who will receive instructions from Mr. Wing.

Details regarding membership will be submitted at Monday's meeting. Several plans have been suggested. It was said. The best features of clubs in other cities are to be incorporated in the plan suggested for Appleton, it is understood.

Many Reservations
Up until noon today about 125 reservations had been made to R. S. Powell, member of the arrangements committee. All reservations must be made to Mr. Powell at the First National bank before Saturday noon so that preparations for the dinner at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening can be made.

The committee on arrangements expressed the hope that Appleton men who wish to attend the dinner, but whose names were unintentionally omitted when the 500 or more invitations were mailed, will attend to their reservations as soon as possible. Arrangements for attending the dinner can be made by calling on Mr. Powell personally, telephoning him or by letter. The reservations must be in his hands by tomorrow morning, however.

Following are the names of the men who, acting as individuals, formulated the plan which will be submitted Monday evening:

J. P. Frank, T. A. Gallagher, John Conway, Stephen D. Balliet, A. K. Ellis, J. D. Steele, August Neve, A. H. Krugmeier, John K. Kline, Homer H. Denton, H. L. Davis, Henry Wagner, J. A. Hawes, Lothar G. Graef, R. S. Powell, Daniel P. Steinberg, M. J. McDonald and P. H. Ryan.

Three Speakers Coming
The principal speaker Monday evening will be Phillip A. Grau, secretary of the Association of Commerce at Milwaukee. Mr. Grau is one of the best known commercial organization secretaries in the United States and was selected from a long list of eligible men by the Milwaukee association following the resignation of William George Bruce. Mr. Grau is a forceful speaker and presents his message in a convincing manner.

Other men who are to deliver addresses include F. E. Burrall, president of the Green Bay Association of Commerce, and Frank H. Smith, secretary of that organization. Green Bay is one of the most rapidly growing cities in the state and its boom is largely due to the activities of its Association of Commerce, headed by Mr. Burrall and Mr. Smith.

Success or failure of the plan proposed for Appleton depends upon the interest that will be displayed, according to local leaders. They say it is imperative that every man who is interested in the city's growth attend the meeting Monday evening. The dinner is to start at 6:30 o'clock and the business session immediately after. The proposal of opinion invited.

REPUBLICANS PREPARE PEACE RESOLUTION

Washington.—Republican house leaders today completed a tentative peace resolution which they believe will be constitutional and effective. Plans approved by Lodge and other leaders are to ask action on it in the house next week. Representative Porter, Pennsylvania, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, said he expects to introduce the resolution Saturday or Monday. Some changes may be made.

Democratic Leader Kitchin believes the majority of the house Democrats will support a straight out peace resolution not affecting the status quo of the treaty situation.

YANKS ON RHINE NOT TO ADVANCE INTO GERMANY
Washington.—President Wilson will inform congress in response to the Kahn resolution that the American troops on the Rhine will not participate in any advance into Germany to quell internal strife, it was believed today.

The Kahn resolution called on the president to inform congress of the exact status of the American troops in Germany.

Wilson is expected to point out the American troops are on the Rhine in accordance with the armistice still in effect between this country and Germany.

Wood Charged With Lavish Use Of Money

Borah Accuses Candidate for Republican Nomination of Trying to Control Convention and Create a Big Sensation

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Charging that the managers of Leonard Wood's campaign for the Republican nomination for president have set out to control the Republican national convention through the use of money, Senator Borah, Idaho, today created a political sensation in the senate.

In a speech on campaign expenditures, Borah declared that a "saturnalia of corruption" had been brought about by the use of money by candidates.

His speech may result in a congressional investigation of the campaign funds of all the candidates. Senator Kenyon, Iowa, said he was considering introduction of a resolution for such an inquiry.

Borah declared that both Republican and Democratic candidates were spending money "unconscionably" though not illegally, "because there is no law against it." He introduced a bill to limit such expenditures to $10,000 to a state in pre-convention campaigns.

Spending Is Dangerous
Borah said that with "a senator just convicted by a jury" in connection with the use of money in campaigns, "the time has come to clean the Augean stables. The spending of money has become a national peril."

Borah also declared that only an "innocent" would believe that President Wilson does not intend to seek a third term, and in response to Senator Moses, Wood's manager, he said that if Wood "pursues his present tactics much longer" Wilson will be elected for a third term if he wants to be.

He promised in due time to name the democratic candidates who he said are spending money as lavishly as the Republicans.

Charges Corruption
Borah's speech brought a vehement reply from Senator Moses, who said that every dollar being spent for Wood was being spent properly and of necessity. Moses asked whether Borah was making a charge of corruption and Borah, declaring that he waived his senatorial privilege of immunity for utterances on the floor, charged that Wood's managers were deliberately trying to control the convention by the use of money.

Hurling his charge at the Wood men, Borah challenged them:

"Now let them go to bat on that if they like."

MOB THREATENS TO LYNCH SEVEN HELD FOR SLAYING GIRL

BODY OF 11 YEAR OLD GIRL IS FOUND IN WOODS—FIVE OF THE SUSPECTS ARE NEGROES

By United Press Leased Wire
Stuebenville, Ohio.—Seven suspects rounded up in the hunt for the slayer of Frances Smith, 11, near Adena, Ohio, late yesterday were being hurried to this city by circuitous routes today to avoid heavily armed processes of miners and farmers who threatened to lynch the killer. The child's body was found in a woods about two miles from her home.

Small bodies of farmers and miners were reported watching all the roads in the hope of intercepting the prisoners and their guards. Four of the suspects are negroes.

The child's skull was crushed and the body stripped of its clothing.

Threaten Lynching
Two hundred Adena citizens, after an all night vigil search, were searching surrounding districts today for the girl's slayer.

The men, armed with guns, stones and sticks, uttered threats of lynching as reports were circulated that the slayer had been found near two negroes had been seen near where the body was found. Five suspects were moved to another part of the city when the mob threatened.

Train on which suspects were believed to be riding were stopped and searched by the posse.

Mob Surrounds Jail
Adena, Ohio.—A crowd of 500 persons gathered around the jail here today when it was learned that a suspect in connection with the murder of Frances Smith, 11, was held there. It was learned that the man was taken into custody shortly after the body of the victim was found last night.

Mayor Stinger immediately swore in fifty men to assist the police and deputies to prevent possible violence.

The wet weather has temporarily put an end to filling in the vocational school grounds and the west end of Washington street with earth taken from the site of the new Langstadt and Meyer building.

Find Kidnaped Boy Locked In A Hotel Room

Son of Wealthy Louisville People Effects Own Rescue by Telephoning His Mother—Abductors Narrowly Escape Capture

By United Press Leased Wire
Lexington, Ky.—Paul Little, 12, son of E. R. Little, wealthy oil man, kidnaped from the federal building here late Wednesday, was found by his mother in a room in the Phoenix Hotel here early today.

The boy was unharmed. He himself made a telephone call which resulted in his rescue.

The kidnapers escaped, one of two men whom the boy said had held him prisoner for two days going down one elevator as the mother and a host of friends came up another in the hotel.

Money Is Untouched
A package containing $25,000 ransom was left by the boy's father Thursday night in a garbage can in the heart of Lexington. It was untouched and the child's parents resigned themselves to wait for another communication from the abductors.

The Little telephone rang early today. Mrs. Little answered. "This is Paul, I'm in the Phoenix Hotel," he said.

The mother did not wait for details. With her other son, Keller, 14, she dashed out of the house, followed by her husband. They hailed an automobile and were rushed to the hotel.

"Is my boy here?" she cried as she entered the lobby.

No one had seen the child. Inquiry at the telephone switchboard showed a message had been telephoned from Room Number 651.

Abductor Escapes
Friends had gathered in the lobby. A party started for the sixth floor in one of the elevators.

As the cage reached the sixth floor another elevator started down. A lone man was the occupant of the car. He is believed to have been one of the abductors.

Room 651 was locked but was opened without difficulty and Paul rushed into his mother's arms.

The boy said he had been held in the room ever since he had left the Lexington postoffice with one of the kidnapers Wednesday. A large part of the time, he said, he was locked in the bathroom.

Guarded by Two Men
Paul said he was guarded by two men. Hotel records show the room was occupied on Sunday by a man who registered as J. P. Cox, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Hotel employees said the room was occupied so far as they knew by only one man.

Evidence that the abduction was planned in advance was found in the fact that the man who occupied the room had wired his reservation several days before he reached the city.

The boy gave a description of the two kidnapers. He said one of the men left the room sometime before the arrival of his mother but the other had just closed the door when his mother arrived.

Kidnaping a "Dream"
Minneapolis, Minn.—After telling a story that he had been beaten and robbed, and his 16 year old daughter kidnaped by two bandits last Tuesday night, Palmer Olson, prominent Osseo farmer, today admitted it was a "dream" when his daughter appeared in the room.

Authorities were questioning Olson at the time. Olson had told them the girl was carried away by two men who attacked him on a highway near Twin Lakes and took an automobile he claimed to have purchased in Minneapolis. After the daughter's appearance Olson admitted he had lost the money in Minneapolis and said he had borrowed it from his brother.

He told the story of kidnaping, he said, to "throw brother off the track."

Police said Olson had become intoxicated and lost the money. Inquiries he claimed were inflicted by bandits, they said, were caused by a fall.

FIREMAN SEES HIS WIFE KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Driver Wm. Fitzgerald, fireman, today was a grief-stricken widower and his four small children were motherless.

Last night Fitzgerald from his fire station saw a woman crossing the street carrying an umbrella which obscured her vision of an automobile bearing down on her.

The motorist failed to see the woman because of the storm of wind-blown rain. Fitzgerald started to the door to shout a warning. He was too late. The car struck the woman, hurling her to the pavement.

In the light of the station, Fitzgerald looked at the face of the dying woman he had picked up.

CITY'S GREATEST NEED IS C. OF C. BUSINESSMENS SAY

PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN ENDORSE ORGANIZATION OF A CLUB HERE

REASONS ARE APPARENT
Necessity for Commercial Organization Is Apparent to Everyone—Competent Secretary to Look After All Affairs

Does Appleton need to band its people together for the good of the city? Leading business men who do a lot of thinking along the lines of public spirit and community welfare are practically unanimous in their belief that a commercial organization is needed here. Not only is it needed, they frankly say, but the longer the city hesitates, the longer its progress will be retarded.

Several prominent men indicated yesterday the missing link in the city's administrative chain is a civic body which concentrates all its energy and time on upbuilding the city. No businessman can devote the necessary time to investigate relative to establishing new industries here and it is embarrassing to those who do make an effort along that line to try to do anything without the backing of a civic organization, they said.

Monday night a public meeting will be held at Elk hall and it is evident from the sentiment now prevalent that something definite will be done to relieve the present unconcerted effort.

Haves Favors Club
In speaking of the effort to organize a commercial body here, Mayor J. A. Hawes said: "You can quote me as heartily in favor of it. We have many of them almost every day the necessity of having a well organized chamber of commerce in Appleton. Whenever an industry wants to come to Appleton, it naturally looks up somebody to furnish it authentic information as to what it can do. The visitors want to know the natural and mutual advantages of locating here. The municipal government is not organized for the purpose of doing the business of a commercial organization, therefore we do not get in close touch with industries seeking locations."

Secretary Is Needed
"We need someone to look after the city in an industrial, civic and commercial way," said A. H. Krugmeier, attorney. "We should have a secretary to look after the development of the city because the business men are too busy and cannot take time to consider in a collective way the good things that should come to Appleton. A mere commercial club is not what we want, but a chamber of commerce."

"If we had a very efficient secretary," he continued, "he could study out the problems that present themselves in the inquiries that come to the city. I would rather pay my share to have this work done right than try to attempt it myself."

Mr. Krugmeier also brought out that all the new industrial, railroad and other schemes suggested for Appleton, the acquiring of parks, schools, and other things of a public nature should be sifted out and investigated by a secretary competent to judge, and then recommendations could be made to a chamber of commerce for action. This would save a lot of time for men who are trying to fill the city's present gap, especially where they are trying to get to the bottom of plans that are unsound.

"Put me down as heartily in favor," he concluded, "I am glad to pay my share of what it costs for the good it will do Appleton."

Make a Better City
August H. Meyer also expressed his approval of a commercial body.

"I am and always have been in favor of an organization to boost Appleton," Mr. Meyer said. "Such an organization should be formed on broad lines, free from petty jealousies, and the membership should be open to every man and woman in the city. Its primary object should be to make Appleton a better and more attractive city in which to live, and naturally it would follow that it would be a better city in which to do business, no matter what the line."

"Those manufacturing plants and business enterprises which are worth while," he added, "seek locations which provide the best natural advantages combined with wholesome and desirable living conditions. We have the natural advantages and it is up to us to make our city the best in the country in which to live. There never will be another opportunity like the present to attract desirable industries and to make our city grow, by the simple means of building houses for prospective citizens."

"A live organization could do wonders along these lines," Mr. Meyer concluded.

QUIET SUCCEEDS REVOLUTION IN GERMANY TODAY

SITUATION IS IMPROVING IN EXTREME COUNTRY AS GOVERNMENT REGAINS CONTROL OF AFFAIRS

LUDENDORFF IS BLAMED
Military Leader is Held Responsible for Uprising—Damage as Result of Revolt Will Run into Millions of Marks

BULLETIN
By United Press Leased Wire
Berlin.—The cabinet of Gustav Bauer, formed yesterday, resigned today.

Majority socialists advised President Ebert to order Hermann Mueller, who was minister of foreign affairs, to form a new cabinet.

(By Carl D. Groat)
Berlin.—Government advices here today indicated continued success of efforts to restore order throughout Germany.

The situation in the Rhine provinces is quieting, officials said. They affirmed earlier reports that the government has come to an agreement with at least a majority of the insurrectionary workmen's groups.

Reports of an impending new coup in Berlin were denied. The socialist correspondence bureau published an "alarm call" demanding that the government proceed to fulfill its plans for disarming the Baltic troops, who assisted in the Von Kapp insurrection.

Otherwise, the statement said, a new coup may be expected.

Casualties Were Heavy
Reliable estimates today placed the total dead in disorders since March 13—the day Von Kapp seized power in Berlin—at from two to three thousand, with a similar number wounded.

A dispatch from Plauen said the bolshevist leader, Max Hoelz, had fled to the city to escape arrest.

Public wrath today centered on Gen. Erich Ludendorff. He was attacked bitterly in the press. The people generally have come to the belief that Ludendorff played a leading part in the entire Kapp plot.

The re-hatting meeting scheduled for today was postponed indefinitely.

A survey of the economic situation showed the disorders have resulted in great damage throughout Germany. Railway service was crippled and postal and coal mines neglected.

Economic experts declared the nation's reconstruction has suffered a setback, but believed the fact that Germany has proved to the world that she is done with a monarchist government forever may be well worth the price.

Loss Reaches Millions
The actual financial cost of the disorders can be estimated only in millions of marks, experts agreed. American potato contracts, they said, have been delayed for weeks.

Despite dismissal of Gustav Noske, former minister of defense, hatred against him in labor circles continued intense. The laborites blamed Noske for the entire trouble.

Some Americans here today were embarrassed by the fact their passports have expired and they were unable to have them renewed. The American mission expressed willingness to issue temporary documents but these were said to have no standing.

hard to formulate them into specific arguments. The need for the advancement of the material and public interest in Appleton can be so largely influenced and developed by a public body having the scope and organization of a commercial or business club, or of a chamber of commerce, that the necessity for such an organization must be apparent to everyone. Those who have witnessed the effort made by public-spirited business men to center interest in the housing needs, school needs and in the manufacturing needs of the community will readily admit that something should be done immediately.

"I am in heart sympathy with the efforts to crystallize this sentiment into a living organization," he continued, "and I hope that the progressive men of the community will find it possible to get behind the organization and bring about the consummation of that which we all feel is so earnestly needed in the community. I hope that the business men will attend the meeting that is called for next Monday evening, so that not another week will pass until we have committed ourselves to a definite program of action."

Ripe for Organization
"In my opinion the time is now ripe for the organization of a Chamber of Commerce in Appleton," said Attorney J. P. Frank. "It can not help but unite all of our citizens in a common movement that must operate to the great benefit of the entire community. It will put us in a position to not only help struggling local industries that may be in need of assistance but it will enable us to present the advantages of Appleton to outside concerns looking for an opportunity and place in this organization for every one and I am convinced that if the proposition is properly presented that the business men of this community will be united on the matter as they have never been united on any other matter heretofore."

ANTI-LEAGUERS AND "DRYS" MAY HAVE CANDIDATES

IRRECONCILABLE FOES OF TREATY AND PROHIBITIONISTS MAY TAKE HAND IN CAMPAIGN

WANT BORAH TO ENTER RACE
Idaho Senator Asserts He Will Not be a Candidate as Long as Johnson is in the Running—Dry Party is Getting Ready

(By L. C. Martin)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—An "anti-league of nations party" is being considered, it was learned today.

The plan is to have it present its own candidates unless one of the old parties go on record as being irreconcilably opposed to acceptance of the covenant.

The men behind the movement have been trying for weeks to get Senator William Borah to allow himself to be named as their candidate. Borah has refused.

"I am not a candidate for the presidency and will not be so long as Senator Johnson of California is in the running for the Republican nomination," Borah said today.

Are Well Organized
It was the only comment he would make on the "anti-league party." Borah confirmed these reports that influential men backing the "anti-league party" asked him to allow them to use his name.

Boston, Chicago and New York are headquarters for activities of the new party's proponents. They have a working organization in more than a score of states, it was learned.

The movement grew out of the conviction of its leaders that neither of the great parties will adopt a platform plank declaring unqualifiedly against the league of nations. Though Senator Hiram Johnson is running on an anti-league platform, he would accept the Republican nomination even if the Chicago convention urged treaty ratification with reservations, it is believed here. Borah is the man bitter-ender anti-leaguers look to to lead them.

Limit Expenditures
But they have agreed for the time being to work for Johnson with the understanding that if the Republican convention fails to adopt an out and out anti-league plank, they are free to cut loose and run Borah or anyone else it was learned.

Borah plans to introduce a bill in the senate limiting presidential candidates to the expenditure of $10,000 in any one state in the pre-convention campaign and requiring them to file two statements of receipts and expenditures, one just before and the other after the nominating convention.

Prohibitionists Active
Chicago.—Prohibitionists may put a candidate in the race for the presidency unless one of the major parties can give strong guarantee that its candidate will be for prohibition enforcement, it was stated at national prohibition headquarters here today.

Prospects of a prohibition ticket being injected into the presidential campaign loomed here today when it was learned that a strong minority of the prohibition party are demanding that a dry candidate be named.

Just what action will be taken by the prohibitionists at their convention in Lincoln, Neb., on July 21, depends on the selections to be made by the Democrats and Republicans, said L. D. Fackler, of the dry's headquarters

RIVER NAVIGATION TO OPEN LATER THIS YEAR

Opening of navigation on the Fox river will be considerably later than usual this year, according to information from various sources. The ice is much out of the river but lake ports are still closed and Green Bay reports indicate that it will be some time before boats will be able to dock in that city.

As a result of the late opening of navigation on the lakes the transportation of coal by barges on the river will start later than usual this year. There is very little coal on the docks at Green Bay and it is probable that the barges will not start until after the first shipload of coal reaches the Bay docks.

ELK ARRANGE TO PAY OFF SECOND MORTGAGE

All the bonds of the second mortgage on the Elk lodge building, amounting to $5,900, will be taken up by May 1, at was decided at a meeting of the club Wednesday night. A total of $4,100 on the second mortgage has already been paid. The bonds, in $100 denominations, are held by the lodge members.

The lodge has passed through a successful financial year which made possible last night's action. A celebration meeting to observe the event will be held by the members sometime in May, it is planned.

SPRING VACATIONS OF SCHOOLS START MONDAY

No classes will be held at the Vocational school Friday, April 2, and Monday, April 5. W. S. Ford, director of the school announced today. Other public schools of the city close for one week today for the annual spring vacation.

APPLETON MEN RETURN FROM Y. M. C. A. MEETING

John R. Mott, general secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., conducted the meeting of the committee members of this region, comprising ten states, at Chicago Wednesday. A meeting of the secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. in this region was held at the same time. Judson G. Rosebush and George F. Werner, Appleton men who attended the meetings, returned last night.

The work of the committee in this region for the coming year was explained in speeches by the secretaries of the various phases of Y. M. C. A. work. Headquarters of the international committee for this district in the future is to be maintained in Chicago. Instead of national headquarters at New York, each district conducts the work from its own headquarters. This change of policy was decided upon at the convention at Detroit and is now in operation. A. G. Fnebel, Chicago, is head of this region.

Dr. John R. Mott delivered an address, "The Place of the Y. M. C. A. in the Inter-Church World Movement," at the meeting.

The Robins family, presenting one of the cleverest family acts in vaudeville, headlines the bill at Appleton theatre this week. Other numbers on the program are George Wheeler, musical tramp; Virginia Lee and Company, singing and talking act; Browning and Graham, "No so Ordinary Dancers." The third episode of the Jack Dempsey serial will be shown.

MRS. KELLER HEADS THE SERVICE STAR LEGION

Mrs. Gustave Keller was elected president of the Appleton branch of the Service Star Legion at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the Army and Navy club room at the armory. Other officers elected are Mrs. C. A. Green, first vice president; Mrs. C. W. Mory, second vice president; Mrs. George Hewitt, secretary; Mrs. Julius Kahn, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. A. Willy, treasurer.

Captain Homer H. Benton delivered an interesting address on "Service" in which he stated that all soldiers, no matter how great their service, concede that the service of the women at home was greater. He asserted that despite the heroic work of the women during the war, their greatest task still confronts them in keeping up and stimulating patriotism.

LAWRENCE DEBATORS AGAIN DEFEAT RYON

Lawrence negative team carried off a unanimous decision in the debate here last night with the Ripon affirmatives. Lawrence affirmatives did the same thing last Friday to the Riponites, so that last night the debate completed Ripon's defeat at the hands of Lawrence.

The students turned out with real school spirit, to support their team and helped to bring home the victory by their enthusiasm. Lawrence debaters were, William Doll, Milwaukee; Ralph Nichols, Duluth; and Francis Rosecrance, Rockford, Ill.

Miss Mildred Schwahn will leave tomorrow for Black Creek where she will spend a week with her sister, Mrs. John Wolf.

GREEN BAY BOWLERS ARE UP AMONG THE LEADERS

By United Press Local Wire
Green Bay, Wis. — The Mer-Sullivan bowling team of Chicago rolled into tenth place of the A. B. C. five-man events on the late squad last night with a 2897 count. The High Street Motors, Akron, Ohio, drew seventh place with 2866. The Wilkowsk High Life team of Watertown, Wis., rolled 2807, which landed them among the first 25. The St. Francis Hotel five, St. Paul, dropped 2761 and the H. Doherty and company team of Denver got 2750.

A stiff attack was waged on the leaders in the two-man and individual events yesterday afternoon. Two errors probably saved the scalp of Bert Megowan of Evansville, leader of the individuals with 698. J. Hradek, Chicago, who landed third place with 682, and M. Luecker, Chicago, who took fifth place with 679 both had good chances for a 700 count. An error in the last game halted them.

A. Sallender, Chicago, with 655; J. Coffeen, Green Bay, 653, and E. Wilder, St. Louis, 657, also landed among the leaders.

The high two-man count of the day was registered by V. W. Van Beek and S. Lardnois, Green Bay, Wis., with 1220.

BOY SCOUTS CAGE TEAM WINS FROM WAUPONITES

Appleton Boy Scouts basketball team easily defeated Waupun Boy Scouts quintet at that city Thursday night by a score of 42 to 17. The locals displayed wonderful form, the team work and basket shooting being above reproach. Waupun was held to a single field goal in the second half.

The offensive work of Mills, Heideman, and Zussman for the locals was the feature of the game, while Bender, Ashman and Curry at guard kept the Waupun boys from the basket. "Snooky" Heideman, Appleton's midget forward, tossed in eight field goals, while Zussman and Mills, contributed seven and six respectively. Appleton led, 20 to 14, at the end of the first half.

Dubin at forward for the home team, counted five goals. Niles and Eberts and Paskey tossed in the remaining points.

The Scouts team returned from Waupun at noon today.

HEAVY RAINFALL IS TOO MUCH FOR THE SEWERS TO HANDLE

CELLARS FLOODED IN MANY PARTS OF THE CITY—RIVER LEVEL INCREASES DURING NIGHT

The continued rainfall of the last 48 hours has raised the water level considerably and taxed the sewers to their capacity. In the country the creeks have swelled beyond their bounds and culverts built for ordinary drainage are inadequate for the present volume of water that is rushing toward the river.

It raised 16 inches within the last 48 hours. The water level is going up rapidly but there is no immediate danger. All the sluice gates at Appleton are closed, but at Menasha half the gates are open. With the cessation of rain, it is expected that the volume will slowly subside.

Small culverts in the country are unable to take care of the water that was suddenly turned loose by the rain and thaws. The approach east of the new culvert on the Asylum road caved in this morning, making travel dangerous. Repairs are being made today. While driving over a culvert near the Albert Henck farm in Center, Frank Letts, rural mail carrier experienced a near calamity. The weight of his rig was too much for the inundated water passage, which caved in, dropping the rear end of his buggy into a rushing flood. In trying to pull out of his predicament he broke the whistle tree of his rig, but finally managed to free himself by the use of a rope with which he lashed the tugs to his shafts. Other culverts presented such a dangerous appearance that teamsters are obliged to detour rather than take a chance.

Culverts in the fourth ward were flooded this morning due to the backing up of the water in the sewer.

FINE PROGRAM FOR ROTARY CONVENTION AT WAUSAU IN APRIL

SPECIAL CAR IS CHARTERED TO TRANSPORT APPLETON MEN TO WAUSAU CONVENTION

Rotarians of the fifteenth district will have a busy two days at Wausau next month during the annual convention. Nineteen speakers are on the program just announced, some of them prominent national figures. Business matters of interest to the club, discussions and social affairs will keep the members constantly occupied during their stay. H. B. Cradick, district governor, will preside.

Registration of delegates will start Tuesday morning, April 12, at eight o'clock. An address of welcome by L. A. Pratt, president of the Wausau Rotary club, will be the opening gun of the formal program. Response of the visitors, reading of communications and the presentation of distinguished visitors will follow, together with an address by Mr. Cradick.

Albert S. Adams of Atlanta, Ga., international president of the Rotary clubs, will close the forenoon session with his address. He is one of the most noted men on the program.

In the afternoon every club in the district will have opportunity to name the one best thing it has done during the year. Short addresses on boys' work will follow, supplementing an address which is scheduled for the luncheon hour of that day by Dr. Charles A. Barker of Grand Rapids, Mich. He will speak on "A Father's Responsibility to his Son."

A conference dinner will be held Tuesday evening at the Rothschild pavilion, with an address by Rotarian Lotus Coffman of Minneapolis. E. J. Lillatruitt of Superior will also speak on the 1920 convention. Dancing will close the day's program.

Reports of committees will be heard at the opening session Wednesday, following which international problems will be considered. Rotarian Conrad of Fargo, N. D.; Fred R. Crane of St. Louis and James H. McGillan of Green Bay will be the principal speakers. Reports of committees and the election of district governor will be taken up following these addresses, and at noon Charles S. Whelan of Madison will speak.

The convention will close Wednesday afternoon, the principal feature being a discussion of "The Relation of Employer and Employee" led by Clarence Bartlett of Milwaukee.

At least twenty-five or thirty Appleton Rotarians plan to attend the convention, going to Wausau in a special Pullman coach chartered for the occasion. Considerable boasting is being done at every meeting of the local club so that Appleton will make a real good showing at the convention.

Why Measles May Be Dangerous

This is No. 3 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's VapoRub may be of value in this condition.

Few of us escape measles—it is one of the commonest of childhood diseases. Every mother knows the symptoms, but the mistake that most mothers make is in failing to realize that the child is not fully recovered after the eruption and fever disappear. The air passages are still inflamed and if this inflammation is not cleared up, the air passages may be weakened, thus paving the way for pneumonia or serious disease of the lungs.

Nightly applications of Vick's VapoRub will aid nature in relieving this inflammation. Because Vicks acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Children's digestions are delicate—easily disturbed by too much "dosing." Vicks, therefore, is particularly recommended since it is externally applied and so can be used often and freely without the slightest harmful effects.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to the Vick Chemical Company, 233 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

THE APPLETON SPIRIT

Citizens of Appleton on next Monday night are to take up the question of organizing a commercial association. The dinner and meeting which will be held on that evening are open to everyone. There is no thought of any person or set of persons back of this movement to "control" the organization in any sense of the word. It is purely an effort to secure organization and to get back of it the united support of all who are interested in the advancement of Appleton and who are willing to contribute their assistance and service.

Organization will be perfected after memberships are obtained. This organization and the policies of the association will be wholly in the hands of the members.

The first thing to do is to agree upon a basis of organization and then to secure the necessary number of memberships to maintain it. This is the plan which will be followed. The meeting Monday night is to lay this foundation, and immediately thereafter a campaign will be started for memberships. It is desired to subscribe not less than $12,500 in annual revenue, and this we believe can be easily done.

The needs and benefits of a commercial association are so apparent that we think the proposal will meet with hearty and general support. Within the next few weeks Appleton should have this organization perfected and financed, and a secretary employed. The field for work of this nature here is very large, and the opportunities to serve the city in a constructive way very great. The Post-Crescent hopes the meeting Monday night will bring an enthusiastic response. It will certainly reflect the Appleton spirit, and to what extent its citizens are really prepared to act for the progress and betterment of the community.

WAS IT THE IRISH AMENDMENT

As an aftermath of the treaty fight there is an interesting story abroad to the effect that the real cause of the defeat of the treaty was not a deadlock between the senate and the president, but that it was the eleventh hour injection of the Irish question into the controversy. A few days before the treaty came up for final vote a reservation expressing the sympathy of the United States for an Irish republic was adopted and made a part of the ratification program. This resolution was offered by Senator Gerry, a Democrat of Rhode Island.

It is said that Senator Lodge is a deeply disappointed man over the results of the final vote on the theory that if the treaty, practically made over according to his ideas, should fail to go through the senator from Massachusetts wanted it rejected by the president and not by the senate. In other words, he desired that the executive and not the senate should be responsible before the people for a continuation of the present anomalous situation. This is altogether a reasonable supposition.

The fact that a combination of Republicans and Democrats killed the treaty does not obscure the further fact that the senate was unable to agree upon ratification in any form. As things now stand no one can say exactly what the president would have done had the treaty and league of nations been sent to him ratified in the form in which it was finally voted upon. He either would have accepted the ratification or he would have been required to give satisfactory reasons for rejecting it. There was always the possibility that whatever reasons he might have given could be made the basis for further efforts at compromise.

We believe everyone will agree that it is a matter of great regret that the senate did not ratify the treaty. The overwhelming sentiment of the senate was clearly in favor of ratification with the reservations adopted, and this judgment should have prevailed. The opposing Democrats, we believe, had nothing to lose by voting for ratification. They would have relieved the senate and themselves from responsibility for defeat of the treaty, and if there were any genuine reasons why the treaty should not go into effect in that form there was still the president to fall back upon.

There is gossip at Washington which has it that a compromise would have been reached and the treaty ratified had not the Irish amendment been adopted. Assuming that this is true it would be hard to say whether Mr. Gerry's purpose was to defeat the Lodge plan or merely to gain for himself the support of Irish sympathizers. We do believe that Senator Lodge is far from satisfied with the outcome. There can hardly be any doubt that from the standpoint of strategy alone he would have been in a much stronger position had he secured ratification. The adjustment of the differences within the senate had gone so far as to enlist the support of a substantial number of Democrats. Whether politics or the Irish question killed the treaty it is apparent that the failure to ratify is an unenviable reflection upon the senate, and that it has materially weakened the positions of the politicians of both parties who were not averse to injection of the treaty into the campaign.

POPULATION AND HOUSES

There is much speculation as to what population the census will give Appleton. Estimates range from 19,000 to 23,000. The latter population would show a satisfactory growth, but the former would hardly do. Ten years ago Appleton had 16,773 inhabitants. We ought to show at least a 25 per cent growth, and the Post-Crescent is hopeful and confident that we shall reach this figure. A 40 per cent increase would be much better and we have no doubt that it would be shown but for one fact, and that is the house shortage which has existed here for several years past. The real estate men estimate that we are losing anywhere from 500 to 1,000 people annually by our inability to give them homes in which to live. There is no doubt that the loss from this cause is very heavy. Within the last two or three years it has amounted to what would have been a substantial addition to our population.

Regardless of what the census may credit Appleton with in the way of population and growth, it is apparent that we must give serious concern to our housing problem. The subject has been constantly before us for a long time and we have visible evidence of what we are suffering, but as yet we have not produced the houses. The plan of the real estate board to finance house construction on a large scale is a real and practical solution of the problem, and it will mean a great deal to Appleton if it is put into effect. Two things are certain: We shall not increase our population materially beyond the present point unless we increase our supply of houses, and we shall increase our population practically as fast as we do supply homes.

Today's Poem
EDMUND VANCE COOKE

AT THE PROFITEERIA

The proprietor of the Profiteeria says the tale of high prices is all hysteria. And every time that I enter his store, he remarks, "Well, the next lot will be more. For cotton's so scarce that all wool goods have seemingly taken to the woods. And because of the upward trend of mortar. The supply of skirts is short and shorter. And with twenty-one sheets now to a quire it is plain that the next lot will be higher. The cost of thread has increased the rent. So prices, of course, go up fifty per cent. And now that the country's entirely dry. It's the watered stock that makes things high. And with raw materials retreating rawer—A result, of course, of the recent war—And the cooks all quitting (and you know that!) Why shouldn't you pay more for a hat? This complaint of prices keeps men so tired That even the taxicabs are hired. "Fur coats, because of the luxury-tax. Have increased the price of sealing-wax. So that everything now that comes in cans Has to be kept cool by electric fans. And the factory boys make life in the land. Since so very few of 'em have the sand. And the cost of living? Well, maybe it's high. But Sir Oliver Lodge won't let us die! So now is the chance of the careful buyer. For be sure that the next lot will be higher. "Why, the merchant's profit is very small; It's the robber jobber getting it all. And it isn't the jobber. He cuts no ice. For the manufacturer makes the price. And the factory boys make life in the way. Because of the wage it has to pay. The workman—why, a hundred per cent. Of his income goes for food and rent. So you see that the clamor is all hysteria. And you'd better buy now—at The Profiteeria."

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright, 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

I Interest Bob by Keeping Informed on Current Events

"I think most women would call Jordan Spence an 'ideal' man," I reflected—out loud—so that Bob came back with: "Just what is your idea of an 'ideal' man?" Then he lit a cigaret and settled into the depths of a comfortable chair. He was ready, I could see, for a nice little chat with me, it pleased me immensely to find that I still can keep my husband interested in a conversation. That's just as it was in the days of our engagement. It's a little feature of our married life which I mean never to lose.

More than once I have decided that I must keep posted on the things that impress Bob. So many wives expect their husbands to listen to trivial gossip by the hour. The poor helpless men have to hear endless silly patter about the obvious routine of daily life. Most men are pretty patient that way, but I'd never dare tax Bob with an account of neighborhood affairs.

I do try to keep informed about current events so that I can at least listen intelligently while Bob talks, although goodness knows I don't believe anybody but Bob can follow all those little left-over wars in Europe. Nor do I care at all to talk about the Senate and the peace treaty every morning at breakfast.

But I do think it is perfectly fascinating to read of the aviator who went up into the air seven miles and fell down five miles and made a safe landing through the working of his subconscious mind. That, certainly, is a brand new chapter in human adventure and every woman who has an ounce of imagination ought to give the event as much attention as she would give to a movie scenario.

Long ago Mother Lorimer stimulated me to taking what she termed "a speaking part" in world events. Now that prohibition is with us, Mother insists that wives have a long neglected duty facing them.

Man is an amiable creature, who expects to be amused, according to her theory, and who is kindly while he is amused, and grateful to the entertainer. He will gladly stay where life is gay, but when he is bored he simply gets up and goes where things are not so dull. Often he leaves home simply because some woman, wife or mother is not onto her big job as an entertainer.

Just because women fought so strenuously for prohibition and used a vast reservoir of energy in the battle, Mother thinks they ought now to put some of the same kind of brains and force into devising a social scheme to succeed the saloon.

Naturally when my husband lights a cigaret and settles down for a little talk with me, I am vastly flattered for I realize that I am for the moment at least, quite a success in the role of "Woman, the Entertainer."

Naturally, when Bob asked, "What is your notion of an ideal man, Jane?" I came back with: "You."

"That is as it should be, wife," Bob said with a dramatic bow. "But—leaving me out!"

"Well, I suppose Jordan Spence is a gorgeous sample of what most women approve. He builds his goodness up so high it makes a sort of badness and topples down on the other side."

"Just like a hero of any novel written by a woman," I reflected Bob.

"He adores Chrys—and adores her out of his board. And if she follows the old thing, she is going to ruin her own life and his, too!"

"Well, why shouldn't she destroy her romance before marriage instead of after it—as is the usual way?"

"My dear, all love affairs are perfectly beautiful. But there's frequently one party, like Chrys in this case, who plants a silly stumbling block in the way of true love and upsets Cupid's apple cart with a bang!"

GIRLS FIBBERS, NOT LIARS

London.—The feminine of "liar" is "fibber." That's why women make better liars than men.

It sounds paradoxical, but Canon Peter Green says it is so. He was addressing the Liverpool Police Court on Juvenile Crime.

"A criminal boy," he said, "is silly. A criminal girl is worse. There is nothing to equal a girl who has got off the right track. Bad boys tell lies which can be spotted, but girls lie connectedly, circumstantially, and in a most interesting and probable manner, which takes infinite knowledge and wisdom to discover. The crimes of boys offend the conscience, but the offenses of girls are the outcome not of badness, but silliness and imbecility."

Canon Green ascribes this difference between boy perverters and girls of the same ilk, to the gentler criticism meted out to the frail sex.

"If a boy at school is found out in a deception he is proclaimed a liar, and boys are trained from early days to despise liars. The term is deemed too harsh for feminine offenders, and the most they are ever found out in is a 'fib.' Girls will continue to fib so efficiently that before long they are convinced of the truth of their own untruths and will add to a story with limitless imagination, never once garbling the yarn, until it reaches a perfectly plausible and possible finish."

BROOM MAKERS HAVE THEIR TROUBLES

Chicago.—The broom, in spite of the many modern household devices, still holds its own. Broom manufacturers from all parts of the country met here today to make plans for increasing broom production and reducing the price of the handy cleaner.

"As long as the annual consumption of any commodity exceeds the production there can be little likelihood of lower prices," H. R. Kelso, Lincoln, Neb., spokesman for the association, said. "This is the problem broom manufacturers are face to face with. Something must be done at this meeting to alter these conditions."

"This year's broom crop was over-estimated and now reports show the yield barely sufficient to keep the manufacturer going."

FOREIGNERS TAKE ARMS INTO MEXICO

City of Mexico.—Charges that foreign oil steamers have transported ammunition and arms to the rebel forces in the Tampico district are contained in a report submitted to President Carranza today by General Francisco Murguía, commander of the federal troops operating in the oil region.

In many instances, according to General Murguía, "persons on the outside" must be considered responsible for the murder of Americans, because they enable the bandits to obtain contraband supplies.

Murguía announced in his report that in order to prevent attacks upon Americans, he has established a patrol service along the coast from Port Lobos to Tuxpam, at points where the outlaws generally operate.

NEW HOTEL FOR BOARDWALK

Atlantic City.—A new hotel—the Ritz-Carlton—is to be erected on the beach front here. The plans, which have been filed, call for a nineteen-story structure, and will make it the tallest hotel in the resort. Dimensions show a frontage on the boardwalk of 165 feet. The first floor plans are identical with the arrangement of other Ritz-Carlton hotels in New York and London. Sun parlors are provided on the seventh floor.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Friday, March 29, 1895.

Miss Gertrude Lums was expected home from Cook county normal school Chicago.

Dr. L. M. Turbin of Chicago arrived at the Waverly House on one of his periodical visits.

Mrs. J. A. Underwood returned from an extended visit with her husband at Wausau and opened the Underwood residence.

Extensive changes and improvements were about to be made to the First National bank building, which was to be extended to the rear of the lot.

The new dynamo for the Citizens Electric Light and Power company had arrived and was being installed.

The Badger Paper company of Kaukauna had just added a new department to its business in the printing of wrapping paper for the big retail houses in the cities.

The paper manufacturers seem to be quite unanimously of the opinion that the condition of trade was better than it had been for some time. The volume of business had considerably increased and all the mills had practically all the orders they could fill.

The price of paper, however, remained low and an effort was about to be made to increase it from ten to fifteen cents per hundred.

A member of the Shattuck party in Europe wrote home that the ascent of Mount Vesuvius was not a complete success, the summit being enveloped in a heavy cloud, making the air very cold.

FROM THE SAWDUST TO THE STARDUST TRAIL

Those who have at command
Two worlds in which to turn their creed-gear'd jitney buses round,
Have all creation spanned,
And none else in God's realm may claim a blessed foot of ground.

They have outdone, in fact,
The ancient and still tried and true
old "charlots of the sun."
For they have always lacked
The patronage that their straight thru to heaven cars have won.

The tickets are all signed
By those who run competing lines via
Venus or by Mars
To that "fair isle"—in mind,
Somewhere within the realm of all the countless worlds and stars.

The sawdust trail may lead
To information as to who are qualified to go.
And to yet those who plead
The safety of the "stardust trail" when freed from earth and woe.

O, who can close the door
To all that's in the glory theme and grieve the dear ones so.
Who, to the "golden shore"
Have cleared the way of everything save what they DO NOT KNOW?

Isn't it time for those in favor of government ownership of this and that to start some sort of agitation concerning the railroads?

IDIOSYNCRATIC PROBLEMS

J. T. G.: Will the sad-trousers for women which we see advocated again become popular?

Sociology. If it is to deserve the name of science, must soon turn itself to the quantitative and qualitative analysis and synthesis of certain phenomena which now go about unattached, unshaven, as it were.

For instance: How many freaks (pinchback coats) does it take to make one fad? How many fads to make a fashion? How many cranks must be gathered together in one place before we have a cult? What relation does a cult bear to a movement of ideas to each of the categories herein mentioned?

The permutations and combinations of these tentative queries are infinite. Amuzet.

Save the Wrapper—12 The Yeast Eating Fad

Any brand or kind of pure yeast is a wholesome food and a very nourishing one, containing not only a large proportion of protein but much of the unidentified food accessory known as vitamin. In fact the only objectionable yeast so far as I know is the wild or impure kind called "bees"—Belgian, South American and forty other fancy adjectives being added for camouflage.

It is true that many skinny individuals who for one reason or another have adopted the yeast eating habit have made remarkable gains in weight. This cannot be ascribed to the food content, for even if yeast were pure protein a little cake of yeast taken after each meal would scarcely affect weight appreciably. It may be due to the vitamin content, for vitamins are essential to normal growth and nutrition, at least in younger persons. Or it may be due to the improvement of digestion and the increased appetite which yeast eating often brings about.

Once in a while one who takes yeast complains of a disturbance of digestion and has to discontinue. As a rule digestion is not disturbed, but may be even improved. Many eaters find that they are less troubled with flatulency or fermentation and gas formation—just the contrary to the effect popularly attached to yeast eating. There is a tendency towards loosening of the bowel, but often this is in itself advantageous, since it enables the yeast eater to dispense with the inevitable physic.

One compressed yeast cake—any brand sold by grocers for baking—is taken after each of the three meals, mixed with water, milk, fruit juice, soup or any beverage, for from three to six or more weeks, seems to bring about a cure in many cases of chronic acne (pimples). It is not a specific cure but it can do no harm even though it fails to do any good.

The same remedy has been found efficacious in the treatment of furunculosis, which is the doctor's way of saying recurring boils.

Certain types of eczema have been benefited by yeast, though I cannot recommend yeast for such a protean malady. I have encountered—as every doctor has—all sorts of conditions masquerading, and being wrongly treated, as eczema, among them such diverse diseases as lupus (tuberculous of skin) psoriasis, scabies. In fact, we find that something more than one-half of all cases self-diagnosed as "eczema" are not eczema at all. And it is curious how contended victims of skin diseases are to leave such mysteries unsolved.

If one eats yeast and likes it, I can see no reason why the yeast should not be taken forever. As I have already said, it is a wholesome food.

As a local application for foul, sluggish or sloughing ulcers, a paste of yeast applied three times daily (without any antiseptic bathing) often brings about great improvement and cleaning up of the raw surface so that healing may proceed. The yeast, if not killed by heat or antiseptics, digests away the foul, necrotic tissue and stimulates the growth of healthy granulations.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Gulping Food

I am fond of milk and take a pint of certified milk for my breakfast each morning, usually drinking else. But I find that it causes considerable rumbling and gas and sometimes discomfort after I take it. Is there any way I can take milk without this trouble? It has apparently improved my health a great deal and I hate to have to discontinue it. (C. H. H.)

The Future of Farming

—and The J. I. Case Plow Works Company

THE American farmer today represents the greatest single purchasing power in the world. His expenditures necessary to conduct his business exceed that of all other industries in America combined.

According to the United States census, there are 6,361,000 farms in this country and such is the dependency of the entire world on the product of these farms that everything possible is being done to encourage still greater production by means of greater efficiency.

For forty-four years the farming implements manufactured by the J. I. CASE FLOW WORKS COMPANY have been a dependable element in the cost of producing food, and they have been a large factor in securing greater farming efficiency.

Today because of new world conditions and the new machinery necessary in profitable farming, the J. I. CASE FLOW WORKS COMPANY faces a new and prosperous era.

Its productions from plows to tractors have been fully proven—the demand for them is already greater than the company is in a position to supply; the earnings of the company are exceeding all estimates; and the possibilities for a satisfactory investment in the securities of this company are well worth investigation by conservative investors.

We especially recommend consideration of the First Preferred Stock of this company and shall be glad to give those who desire to obtain full details, some interesting facts.

EXPRESS EMPLOYEES GET "THANK-YOU" FROM BOSS

W. N. Kimball, local agent of the American Railway Express company, is in receipt of a communication today which passes down to the agents and their staffs the thanks of the United States Railway Administration for their service while under government control.

The letter emanates from the office of George C. Taylor of New York, president of the company, in which he quotes a communication from Max Thelen, head of the Bureau of Public Service of the government railway department. Mr. Thelen thanked the express company for the prompt and satisfactory manner in which complaints received by his office were handled. This word of commendation the president passes on to the employees.

Mr. Taylor also stated that under the changed status a continued effort to serve the public should be exerted by all concerned, whether under one company or more. No hint is given as to whether the express business will revert back to several companies or remain as at present.

WISCONSIN NORTHERN TRACKS INUNDED

A portion of the Wisconsin and Northern tracks near Black Creek was inundated this morning as a result of last night's heavy rains, giving the appearance of a washout. Warning of the condition was received early so that no trains were allowed to pass over the tracks until an examination could be made. It was found that part of the filling had been washed away but traffic continued about as usual. Trains passing that point proceeded slowly to lessen the danger.

MARKET OPENED STRONG BUT

DURING THE TRADING

By United Press. Lowered Wires. Chicago.—Trading in grain futures was irregular on the Chicago board of trade today. The market opened strong on a good demand and then slumped on weak buying. Sept. corn opened at $1.45, up 1/2 and advanced 1/2. May oats opened at 85 1/2, up 1/2, and later gained 1/2. July oats, up 1/2 at the opening of 78 1/2, later lost 1/2. Provisions were generally higher.

PACKERS ARE GIVEN UNFAIR ADVANTAGE

THAT IS THE ASSERTION OF GROCERS WHO WILL PRESENT CLAIMS TO COMMERCE COMMISSION

By United Press. Leased Wire. Chicago.—"Big five" meat packers were charged with violation of the agreement with the government to dissolve subsidiary industries, by attorneys for grocers before the interstate commerce commission here today.

Clifford Thorne, representing the wholesale grocers, seeking an order to equalize shipping facilities, between packers and grocers, charged that packers are setting up new companies for the purpose of conducting the business of commodities "unrelated" to the meat industry. The packers' agreement with the government provided that they would quit divesting all businesses except meat packing and the sale of dairy products.

Chicago.—Alleged discriminations by railroads in shipping facilities in favor of the "big five" meat packers and against wholesale grocers is contained in charges by grocers who will appear before the interstate commerce commission today, it was announced.

The hearing will be held here before Commissioner C. B. Aitchison. Grocers, railroad men and packers are expected to testify.

In a letter sent to members of the national wholesale grocers' association by Clifford Thorne, counsel, an attack is made on Attorney General Palmer's agreement with the packers whereby they promise to dissolve claims that the agreement does not remove discriminations which are said to be given the packers by railroads in shipping facilities.

"The basis of our whole case is that commodities not requiring refrigeration and expedited service should not be permitted to mix with packing house products and fresh meats getting special expedited service," the notice sent by grocers says. "If the packers are permitted to continue to ship articles with their fresh meats in the same car, it will mean that they will have an unjust advantage over every competitor who does not also engage in the packing house business."

The charge is made that packers are now organizing other corporations to handle "unrelated" business for them through loopholes allowed in the government decree and that the packers will continue to enjoy their special railroad privileges in direct competition with grocers.

Both the winners of third and fourth places spoke on "The Rule of the Untrained."

Another preliminary contest will be held the week of April 4, followed by the final contest a few days later, to determine the school championship. The contests are being conducted by B. W. Wells of the history and debate departments.

THREE SLAIN IN DOUBLE MURDER AND SUICIDE

By United Press. Leased Wire. Milwaukee.—The family of Joseph Martin, a barber, was found dead, apparently the outcome of a double murder and suicide, today.

Martin's wife, Loretta, was lying on the floor with deep gashes and bruises on the side of her head. Martin, with the body of his five year old daughter in his arms, was lying a few feet away.

Gas jets were found open, and the room was filled with fumes. It is the belief of the authorities that after knocking his wife unconscious, Martin turned on the gas, asphyxiating himself and baby.

The bodies were found when a relative of Mrs. Martin, Stephen Serdah-ley, this morning, called at the Martin home.

The bodies were taken to the morgue while the police are investigating.

PEA CANNERS DISCUSS STANDARDS FOR PRODUCT

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison, Wis.—Practically every canning company and most of the jobbers of Wisconsin were represented at the hearing conducted by the Division of Markets Wednesday, at its office in the capitol, preliminary to the establishment of legal standards for peas canned in Wisconsin.

A tentative plan was presented by the Division of Markets to establish five grades, Wisconsin Ungraded, Wisconsin Standard, Wisconsin Extra Standard and Wisconsin Fancy.

The specifications for the tentative grades were, discussed at some length by both the canners and jobbers, but as the Federal Department of Agriculture has been studying the grades of peas for some time and as under the federal as well as state laws the Wisconsin peas, more than 95 per cent of which go into interstate commerce, will have to conform to the federal standards no definite action will be taken until the ruling of the Department of Agriculture is announced.

In the meantime a committee composed of a representative of the Division of Markets, Canners and Jobbers will study the matter and when the federal ruling is announced will recommend the adoption of Wisconsin Standards to conform to it, and at the same time carrying the Wisconsin Brand.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES

Kaukauna—On Tuesday Miss Dixon of the Palmer Writing Co., spent an hour with the school in the interest of good writing. She gave a writing exercise which was very instructive as well as enjoyable.

School was in session last Saturday so that we might close and have Good Friday.

The second basketball team played the freshmen of the high school and won by a score of 4 to 0.

Miss Carroll of Chilton and Miss Nichol of the graded school in the town of Cicero visited the school last week. We are always glad to have former students back for a visit.

The St. Patrick's party given on Wednesday evening was a successful affair. The juniors entertained in honor of the seniors. The gymnasium was beautifully decorated in colors that would warm the heart of any son of Erin and the party in general teemed with Irishism. The decoration committee did itself proud, the refreshment committee planned so well that everyone was supplied with eats and the games committee did not allow things to drag for an instant.

The program for the literary society meeting on Thursday was supplied by the following: Marie Carroll, Viola Seifert, Katherine Konecny, Elsie Haas, Viola Orlepp, Rose Bos, Elizabeth Buss, Esther Bubolz, Lenora Nickel, and Helen Duime. The debate, "Resolved that there should be a dormitory at the training school for the girls" brought some very wholesome discussions.

Plans are being perfected for sending each senior out to a rural school for one week in the near future. The senior will both observe the regular teacher at work and also take classes to teach upon her own responsibility. It is hoped that in this way the students will have some real training before becoming teachers.

The senior class is working with standard tests and measurements in education so that when they are called upon to do this kind of work for the county and state superintendent they will be prepared.

The basketball players are planning on having a group picture taken so that athletics can be shown as one of the school activities.

When Death Cools His Sting

There is in the West Indies a very curious superstition regarding death. When a death occurs in a house all the water in it should be regarded as poisoned and at once thrown away. The idea is that death after claiming his victim will cool his "sting" in the first water he reaches, which thereby becomes a deadly poison. No one can tell what water has been touched, so the safe thing to do is to get rid of all that is within his reach and do it at once.

EVERYONE

from nine to ninety can eat Cream of Barley. Here is a delicious food flavor. Also, it is a health food par excellence, for in a dish of this highly concentrated food you get more nutrition than could be obtained from three or four times as much meat, eggs or potatoes. It is, by the way, the most easily assimilated food in the world.

I AM MORE GRATEFUL TO

Tania than words can express, for it has given me health and happiness after twelve long years of suffering" was the enthusiastic statement made the other day by Mrs. Olive Peltier, of Vermont.

"I am more grateful to Tania than words can express for it has given me health and happiness after twelve long years of suffering," was the statement made the other day by Mrs. Olive Peltier, No. 26 East Allen Street, Winoski, Vt.

"I had been troubled so long with nervousness and sleeplessness that my house work was a drudgery and I got little pleasure out of life. My appetite left me entirely and at times I could hardly bear the sight of food and what little I did eat caused me severe suffering afterward. Gas would form on my stomach so badly that it affected my heart and I thought I had heart trouble.

"I was so nervous I would jump at the least unexpected noise and would drop everything I had in my hands. I got so weak and faint at times that I would have to catch hold of something to keep from falling over. My sleep was broken and restless and I was losing weight rapidly. I had little strength or energy and, as I had tried all kinds of medicines without relief, I had become very much discouraged over my condition.

"My husband had been taking Tania and when I saw what wonderful results he was getting I decided to try it myself and now I think as much of Tania as he does because it has helped me the same way.

"My appetite has come back and everything agrees with me perfectly. I am taking on weight rapidly and have already gained nine pounds; in fact, I feel perfectly well in every way. Tania has done wonders for me and I am only too happy to tell others about it."

Tania is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt and by leading druggists in every town.

Petroleum in Mexican Lake

For hundreds of years Mexican Indians had a horror of what they called the pest spot of Lake Chapala, near the shore at Tizapan. They would not bathe in it or sail around it, declaring that the water was oily. Then, after a time, they cautiously began to paint wooden boats with this oil, which proved so effective in keeping out the water that it became the general custom to use it. They did not know that this was petroleum gushing up through the water—a magnificent flow, about two miles out in the lake, which to this day gushes apparently without varying. When the water is low petroleum floats in solid masses, each large globule weighing about 25 pounds.

Queer Burial Custom

Among the Indians of Alaska living along the rock-bound coast of the Bering sea many old customs prevail, and it is still believed that when a man dies he must pass forward through four successive stages before he reaches heaven. Thus his mourners and family must spend four days and nights in chanting songs or telling of his virtues and must eat only the foods of which he was fond. At the end of that time the body of the dead man is wrapped into a bundle and is hauled up through the roof by strong ropes, that the corpse may not pass through any door used by the living. Cremation follows and the ashes are put into a bag and stored in great wooden chests.

Women who use Resinol

do not fear the effects of weather on the skin

Brisk winds and chill rains have no terrors for the woman who uses RESINOL OINTMENT and knows that its bland, beautiful qualities will take the sting and smart from chapped skin, and help to clear away redness and roughness.

It is also excellent for the treatment of eczema, and other severe skin troubles. At all druggists.

BASEBALL MOGULS WANT SHOWDOWN ON GAMBLING CHARGES

CHARGES THAT GAMES HAVE BEEN FIXED AND GAMBLING IS RAMPANT MAY BE AIDED

(By Henry L. Farrell)
By United Press Leased Wire

New York—Organized baseball at last has made a move to see how much fire there is behind all that 'tween season smoke.

In calling for a showdown from Lee Magee, the self-acclaimed martyr of baseball autonomy, John A. Heydler, President of the National League, has raised the first hand to defend baseball from the innuendo spreaders of fixed world's series yarns, crooked games and wholesale gambling. So many charges were made in the late fall that an investigation by the league heads or the national commission seemed imperative. But if the powers of the game gave any consideration to the charges, it was not made public.

Following the mid-winter meeting of the two leagues came the report that three National league players had been blacklisted out of organized baseball for association with gamblers. No names were mentioned.

Magee Makes Statement

Lee Magee came out in a public statement then and said he was one of them. Next, Hal Chase, who had been implicated with Magee in similar charges filed by Christy Mathewson when manager of the Reds, and who was later acquired by the league, announced his retirement from the Giants on account of bad eyes. Heinie Zimmerman, star third-baseman of the Giants, suspended last year by McGraw for breaking training rules, is working out with the Fordham university squad instead of barnstorming with his old mates.

Bluff is Called

Magee shouted for a hearing, charging injustice, un-American methods, etc. The fans heard him but the moguls apparently were deaf.

Then he followed with the threat to make an exposition that would carry several with him out of baseball if President Heydler didn't grant him a hearing before Saturday.

Heydler replied by asking "why wait until Saturday?"

Heydler denied that any charges have been made against Magee and inferred that he was dropped from the Gub-roster for business reasons.

Dancing in Haiti

Dancing to the music of a drum, saxophone and flute is the chief source of amusement for Haitians in their little villages on Saturday night, according to an article by William Almon Wolf in Collier's. Beginning at sundown every Saturday night, he writes, one will come to a wine shop, if one follows the sound of the drum. The drummer sits outside. His unceasing drumming marks the rhythm of the music; what melody there is, is borne by a flute, and almost always there is a saxophone. The music is the same at every dance. It is in common tone; a single cadence is repeated, over and over again.

Dancing in Haiti resembles the saturnalia among the Australian aborigines, Mr. Wolf writes. The dancers are frank and unashamed and one gets little or no feeling of a personal note between the two one sees dancing; rather they are staging a spectacle.

To Renovate Old Oil Paintings

When old oil paintings have become dark and cracked they may be made to look like new by the following process, says the Illustrated World: Pour alcohol in a dish and put the picture over it, face downward. The fumes of the alcohol dissolve the paint of the picture, the cracks close up and the color becomes more fresh. Caution is absolutely necessary, as the paint may become so soft as to run together, thus spoiling the whole picture.

Instinct of Birds

The circumstance of the bluebirds being emboldened by the cold, suggests the fact that the fear of man, which now seems like an instinct in the birds, is evidently an acquired trait, and foreign to them in a state of primitive nature. Every gunner has observed, to his chagrin, how wild the pigeons become after a few days of firing among them; and, to his delight, how easy it is to approach near his game in new or unfrequented woods.

Maryland an Old State

"Maryland, My Maryland," was one of the thirteen original states. In 1632 Cecilius Calvert, second Lord Baltimore, received from Charles I a charter conferring on him possession of the territory now forming the states of Maryland and Delaware. Thus he became a sort of federal lord, in supreme authority over the colony. Maryland had a long list of proprietary and royal governors before it was organized as a state in 1777.

RADICALS ARE NOT BEING DEPORTED, ATTORNEY SAYS

New York—In spite of statements from the Department of Labor that deportations are continuing, radicals here declare that Washington officialdom is "camouflaging" and that no political offenders are being sent abroad.

Though the government's statement that about 500 persons were deported in February is not disputed,

It is said that these were alien lunatics, paupers, prostitutes and others such as have always been deported. "The government is not deporting any members of the Communist nor Communist Labor parties," said Charles Recht, attorney for those organizations. "A number of writs of deportation have been cancelled."

CANADIAN FARMERS WANT REFORMS IN EVERYTHING

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Ottawa, Can.—Farmers in Canada are in politics for the first time in history.

A "war" fund is being collected by an army of canvassers in Manitoba. Farmers' power is increasing steadily. T. A. Cramer, former farm boy, school teacher and war-time minister of agriculture, is leading the farmers' revolt. There is talk of Cramer being the next premier of Canada.

The whole trend of Canadian politics is being changed by the business-like methods 700 campaign fund canvassers are using in Manitoba. The campaign signals the full entry into politics of a new party, the National Progressive party, as the farmers now call themselves.

Originally the farmers' revolt was directed against high tariffs. They also want initiative, referendum and recall, and a land settlement scheme to make idle land salable, co-operative marketing agencies and public ownership of railway, water and aerial transportation, telephone, telegraph and express systems.

Farmers expect to have 60 members in the next Parliament.

Great American Tragedienne

One of the greatest tragediennes of the last century, Charlotte Saunders Cushman, died in Boston nearly half a century ago, leaving behind her one of the most inspiring and splendid memories in all the history of the stage. Miss Cushman was born in Boston July 23, 1816. Her early ambition was musical, and she was just at the beginning of a successful operatic career when her voice failed. Her loss to music was a gain to the drama. She first appeared as Lady Macbeth in New Orleans, and soon gained rank in England and America as the foremost actress of the English-speaking world. Forty-five years ago she began her farewell tour of America, and on a day in May, 1874, an audience that filled the Globe theater in Boston saw Charlotte Cushman's last appearance on the stage. She died in less than a year afterward.

A Boy of Method
It was the week before little Willie's birthday and he was on his knees at his bedside petitioning Divine Providence for presents in a very loud voice.

"Please send me," he shouted, "a bicycle, a tool chest, a—"
"What are you praying so loud for?" his younger brother interrupted. "God ain't deaf."
"I know he ain't," said little Willie, winking towards the next room, "but grandma is."—London Opinion.

MAX CLOSE "HOODOO CELL" IN DENVER JAIL

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Denver—The ghosts of the "hoodoo cell" in the city jail here have claimed another victim. The single cell in an isolated part of the jail has been the scene of more than one grim tragedy. Jacob Becker, charged with a petty offense, hanged himself with his belt after one night with the ghosts of the "hoodoo cell."

Virgil Tremble and two confederates, docile prisoners when in the main cellhouse, went wild and broke jail after two days in the "hoodoo cell."

The remains of the straps and ropes that two other men used to strangle out their lives cling to pipes at the roof of the cell.

One man traced "Better death than dishonor," across the wall before he took his life. Another wrote that "Once was enough." There is a line declaring the eleventh commandment to be, "Thou shalt not survive."

Authorities now consider the closing of the "hoodoo cell."

Management Often Less Efficient

Unless a plant is properly organized, unless there are reliable records on which to base conclusions, unless production is properly controlled, unless working conditions and facilities are what they should be, workmen cannot work efficiently, whether they want to or not. Idleness in equipment, waste in floor space, inadequate manufacturing facilities, too much material tied up in stock, over-equipment, breakdowns and repairing equipment during working hours, failure to provide work, or material, or tools on time are certainly factors not within the control of the workers in a plant.—C. E. Knoppel in Forbes Magazine.

ENFORCED MEXICAN LABOR WILL EITHER MAKE OR MAR

(Special to Post-Crescent)

San Antonio, Texas—Will borrowed labor cement friendship between the U. S. and Mexico?

If present plans of employers are successful, hundreds of unskilled Mexican workmen will be brought into Texas to relieve the labor shortage on farms and railways.

Each one of them, when he returns to his own country, will be a messenger of good will, or distrust, depending on the treatment received.

Benjamin L. Padilla, formerly a commercial agent of the Villista government, and now engaged in business here, sees in the proposed plan, an opportunity and at the same time, a need for care that justice be done.

The Difference

"What little boy can tell me the difference between the 'quick' and the 'dead'?" asked the Sunday school teacher.

Willie waved his hand frantically.

"Well, Willie?"

"The 'quicks' are the ones that get out of the way of automobiles; the ones that don't are the 'dead.'"

FRECKLES

March Worst Month for This Trouble

How to Remove Easily

There's a reason why nearly everybody has freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine, double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all Summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if Othine fails.

Working Hours of Women

The average working day for farm women in South Dakota is fifteen hours in summer and twelve in winter.

Twelve hours a day is the shortest working day Japanese women have, and that although they work seven days a week, seldom averages them more than $4.67 a week.

France, Belgium, Spain, Holland, Denmark, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Poland, Sweden and Finland have laws providing for an eight hour day for all workers, women as well as men.

The minimum allowance on which a self-supporting woman can live is $12.50 a week, according to the finding of the Massachusetts minimum wage commission.

COURT DECISION IS LAST DITCH IN WETS' BATTLE

Liquor Men Won't Spend Further Funds on Fight if 18th Amendment is Held Constitutional by Supreme Court

Newark, N. J.—If their fight to have the 18th amendment declared unconstitutional fails, the liquor interests' battle against prohibition will be over.

The distillers and brewers realize the hopelessness of attempting to obtain the repeal of the amendment.

Such is the position of Christian W. Feigenspan, president of the United States Brewers' Association, who has been called the "master mind" of the wet forces.

Viewed in this light the 3.5 per cent beer bill passed by the New Jersey Legislature and the similar one pending in New York are nothing more or less than "bluff."

"We are centering our hopes on the attempt to have the Supreme Court declare the 18th amendment unconstitutional," said Feigenspan. "If the amendment is held legal we shall not conduct any agitation for its repeal as 5 per cent of the country's population in 13 of the smaller states could prevent this."

Official Proof of What the Tractors Pull in the Field

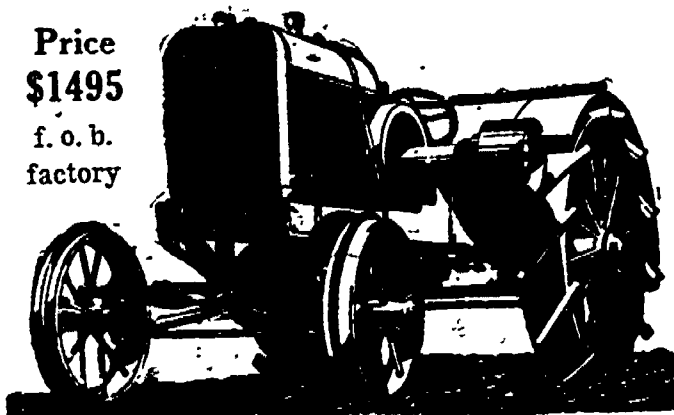

The Hart-Parr 30 Record at the Big Ohio Tests Shows the Results of Many Years of "Knowing How"

The farm tractor built by "The Founders of the Tractor Industry" developed 26½ drawbar horsepower, 96 per cent more than the average of all other three-plow tractors in the tests. In making this record, the Hart-Parr 30 plowed 10½ inches deep in old timothy sod at 3.08 miles an hour.

The Hart-Parr 30 is built entirely in our own big factory—a large output at a low manufacturing cost. If tractors were sold by horsepower developed, the Hart-Parr 30 would be worth from one-third to three times more than any other three-plow tractor in the Ohio tests.

Our catalog is full of interesting facts and useful information for the prospective tractor buyer. A postal card request will bring it to you.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ADVERTISES CITY, BANKER ASSERTS

GREEN BAY MAN TELLS OF ADVANTAGES OF ORGANIZATION—BIG SUCCESS IN MADISON

A Chamber of Commerce or similar organization does much toward advertising a city to the outside world, according to John Rose, cashier of the Kellogg National Bank of Green Bay. The statement was made in a letter written to R. S. Powell, president of the First National Bank of Appleton, for information concerning the Association of Commerce in that city.

Madison bankers also endorse the Chamber of Commerce idea, asserting that a commercial organization is one of the city's greatest needs. Letters from several Madison bankers follow:

Dues in our association are $25.00 per membership and there are some individuals and corporations who hold as high as twenty memberships.

"We pay our secretary $4,000.00 a year, and the assistant secretary $1,800.00 a year.

"While we do not claim that the Association has been directly responsible for a number of new industries that have come to Green Bay in the last year or two we do claim, however, that the publicity given to Green Bay through the Association of Commerce has been instrumental in a large way towards directing the attention of outside interest towards Green Bay.

"Yours truly,
JOHN ROSE
"Cashier Kellogg National Bank of Green Bay."

Does Much For City
Wausau, Wis.

"Dear Mr. Powell:—In reply to your letter of the 20th, wish to state that we thoroughly believe in the desirability of a Chamber of Commerce to gather in the various forces of a community and put them into working shape for the community. The scope of activity of our local association is large, and because of that fact, the association has been enabled to assist in effectually solving many of the problems that come to a community in its daily life. In the Chamber of Commerce, we have some organization which can act for the community on its many problems.

"The greatest achievement of our local association was along the line of stabilizing local credit. Our merchants were unusually liberal in extending credit, and their losses were large, but since the time that the association took a firm stand in regard to granting credit and instituting a credit bureau, losses from bad accounts have been cut to more than 50 per cent; not only that, but through the instrumentality of the credit bureau, we are enabled to practically eliminate every possibility of a loss.

"The budget is provided for from receipts from membership dues. The general membership is not less than $12.00 a year. Those who desire to avail themselves of the rating bureau, pay $24 and then again, those who desire to use the Traffic Bureau, pay much larger dues, and banks and other business concerns not engaged in manufacturing, arrange to pay for as many general memberships as they feel able to. So far, we have had only $7,000.00 available for the carrying on of the association, but we feel that this is only one-half enough, and we would suggest that if you people organize an association, that you set your mark high and make ample provisions for your income. The usefulness of the association is limited altogether by the working funds that it has at its disposal.

"Our local Secretary is receiving a salary of $2,400.00, which we all feel is too small, but with the limited income, we find it impossible to pay more.

"In order to be most effective, the association should have a downtown office conveniently located, and the management should not only aim to be of use to members, but to the community and the County as well.

"We trust that this information will serve your purpose, and if we can be of any further service to you in this matter, will you please call upon us? May we not suggest that you send a representative here to examine our Credit Information Department?"

"Yours respectfully,
C. G. Krueger,
"Cashier, First National Bank of Wausau."

Solves Many Problems
Madison, Wis.

"Dear Mr. Powell:—In reply to your letter of the 20th addressed to Mr. Boyd will say that upon the whole we believe the Association of Commerce to be a success and worthy of the expenses, time and labor expended. The real business men of the city have all taken a great interest in our association with the result that concerted action has been used in practically any public or civic matter that has come up. In this way they have gotten to the real worth of affairs and been able to determine whether or not it was a benefit and worth while.

"At the present time the board of directors of the Association of Commerce is composed of very representative men, each of whom is chairman of a committee ranging from five to twelve men all of whom are in business and are deeply interested.

"From the standpoint of the retailers, the Association has been very successful as they have established a credit rating bureau whereby retailers are able to gain information concerning practically every individual in the city. Of course, it necessitates the co-operation of these retailers with information regarding their own experience and these people. However, everyone here is very well pleased and has gained considerable benefit from it.

"In the line of patriotic and civic attractions and demonstrations our association has taken a great deal of interest and made many of them very successful.

HEADS NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DEPT.

C. D. SNOW

Washington.—Chauncey D. Snow, former first assistant chief of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, has resigned as U. S. commercial attaché to Paris to head a newly formed department of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. He went to Paris about a year ago to investigate markets in France for American goods.

We believe that it is a benefit to a city if the business men can be sufficiently interested as they have been here.

"We are enclosing a program of the work suggested for the coming year which will give you an idea of the affairs, activities, etc., that the directors investigate and work upon. This program has been recently worked up and submitted to the meeting of the directors last week.

"The dues are of two classes ranging from $12 to $24 per annum for ordinary membership. The annual expenses amount to approximately $12,000 and the salary of the paid secretary I believe is $4,500 per annum.

"We have requested the secretary of the Association to write you more fully regarding the matter of dues and expenses, explaining the various memberships, etc., as he will be able to give you a more intelligent explanation than we will.

"If there is any way in which we may be of further service to you kindly do not hesitate to ask us.

"Yours very sincerely,
H. C. JAMESON,
"Cashier, Bank of Wisconsin."

AUTO TRUCK LINE TO BE RUN THROUGH FOX RIVER VALLEY

NORTHERN TRANSPORTATION COMPANY STARTS WORK ON LARGE WAREHOUSE IN GREEN BAY

Green Bay.—Excavation will be started at once for a modern warehouse, 100 feet long by 60 feet wide, for the Northern Transportation company which will resume auto truck freight routes through the Fox River valley and along the lake shore early next month. The new building will be of concrete and tile construction.

The structure will contain the company's general offices, garage and storage room. The company will operate the largest freight and passenger auto truck line in Wisconsin.

Service from Green Bay to Fond du Lac will be started April 10. Feeder lines to Appleton, Oshkosh and Fond du Lac are also proposed.

A second route between Greer Bay and Sturgeon Bay is to be opened and a route will also be established from Green Bay to Marinette and Menominee. Another route is planned which will include Seymour, New London, Clintonville and Wausau. It is proposed to extend the Green Bay-Fond du Lac route to Milwaukee and it is also probable that the line to Sturgeon Bay will be extended to run along the lake shore to the Cream City.

Passenger service will soon be inaugurated on the Green Bay-Sturgeon Bay and the Green Bay-Menominee routes. Fast automobile trucks will be provided.

The company's equipment includes a number of heavy trucks and trailers. Arrangements are made with draymen in the cities through which the routes pass to haul the freight to a central point where it will be picked up by the trucks. Trailers may be loaded at the doors of wholesalers and manufacturers and transported to their destination without a second handling.

Snow plows have been perfected to keep the roads open during the winter so that year-around service can be provided. The company has already issued its tariffs and is practically ready to begin operations.

NEENAH PLANS SUIT AGAINST LIGHT CO.

TRACTION COMPANY OFFICIALS INVITED TO ATTEND MEETING AT NEENAH THIS EVENING

Neenah.—A special meeting of the common council will probably be held here tonight to give representatives of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company an opportunity to present its side of the controversy over local lighting service. At its last meeting, the council voted to bring an action before the state railroad commission against the traction company in an endeavor to secure "adequate" service. Company officials are understood to have suggested a meeting with the council previous to the filing of the suit and proceedings will be held up by the city until after this meeting. In addressing the civic association here this week, A. K. Ellis, Appleton, superintendent of the company, outlined the improvement work which had been done in the Twin cities during the past few years; made the statement that the lights in the city of Neenah were out less than one-half of one percent of the number of hours the contract calls for, whereas the state of Wisconsin figures 2 per cent as a normal showing in the matter of failure of service. He also spoke of further plans for improving the gas and light service here, including the erection of a big gas reservoir as a sub-station to insure the city plenty of gas even should accidents happen at the Appleton plant. Mr. Ellis, in his talk, attributed the shutting off of the street lights at intervals lately to high winds whipping tree branches against the wires.

BAD FORM TO HAVE TALL VASE AS CENTER PIECE AT A DINNER

Bad form to have tall vase in choosing the center-piece for table decoration, choose a plant or bouquet that is low-standing.

It is considered "bad form" to put a tall vase of flowers in the middle of the table, making it impossible for persons seated opposite to see each other.

A man lecturing on the subject went so far as to say that a guest was justified in refusing to partake and leaving the dining room if the table decorations obstructed his view of the person across the table.

If tall flowers must be used, one or two perfect blossoms arranged in a flat bowl and flower holder have a charming effect and cause no one to go dinnerless.

MENU FOR TOMORROW

DINNER—Scalloped chicken, candied sweet potatoes, current jelly, hot rolls, asparagus salad, orange ice, sponge cake, coffee.

MY OWN RECIPES

When a cake is to be served with a more elaborate dessert, I like a simple sponge cake. No cake is more easily digested and nourishing. And from the everlasting economical standpoint, sponge cake is not expensive. Of course the rule calls for four eggs, but there is no butter or milk, so the number of eggs does not mean an extravagant cake.

Stewed Prunes With Lemon
1 pound prunes
Water
Grated rind and juice 1 lemon
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Wash prunes and soak for 3 hours. Cover with water and bring slowly to the boiling point. Simmer for 2 hours. Add salt and lemon and sugar and continue cooking for 30 minutes.

One-Egg Cake

1 cup butter
1½ cups sugar
3 cups flour

1 cup milk
1 egg
1 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons cream of tartar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup raisins (seeded and chopped)
¼ teaspoon salt
Cream butter and sugar. Add one-half cup flour. Add egg well beaten. Mix soda and cream of tartar with flour. Add flour and milk alternately to mixture. Add raisins with each portion of flour. Add salt and vanilla. Bake in a loaf in a moderate oven.

Celery leaves and outer stalks
2 medium-sized onions
Salt
Pepper

½ cup uncooked rice
I have given no definite measures because this is a soup to use up just what one has in the house. Put the meat and bones and fat with the vegetables into a kettle and more than cover with cold water. Wash the rice and put in a strainer and put in the kettle. Put over the fire and bring to the boiling point. Then reduce heat and simmer gently for 2 or 3 hours. Stir the rice occasionally and when half done add 1 teaspoonful of salt. When ready to serve strain soup, season with salt and pepper, add rice, put over the fire and let boil up one. By cooking the rice in the broth any fat is absorbed and the rice also gains a vegetable flavor.

SWEET ALYSSUM ADDS CHARM TO THE GARDEN

Sweet alyssum is an addition to one's garden which is often neglected. Experience shows it to be a plant which requires little care and will grow despite indifferently good soil. It is usually recognized as the best of all varieties of annuals for an amateur because of its easy cultivation.

Grows Readily

It is a robust plant and starts readily from seed. In order to be started properly, the soil should be spaded and fertilizer added. Where the soil is of clay, a liberal supply of sand should be worked into the ground. If this is not available, fine ashes may be used in sufficient quantity to prevent clogging or lumping in rainy weather.

The surface of the ground should be raked until the soil is fine before the seeds are sowed. These can then be thrown broadcast, raked repeatedly, and finally patted down with the back of a trowel.

Should Have Shade

The plants will have a better chance to become sturdy if some sort of shade is provided, until the seedlings have grown two or three leaves. This shade, which may be made by a newspaper, need be spread only during the three or four hours of a day when the sun's rays are hottest.

Sweet alyssum will renew itself each year from self-sown seeds. A little fertilizer should be spread on the soil, however, to insure strong growth. A few of the plants may be potted in the fall, and used as house plants during winter months. Its flowers blossom in profusion out of doors, from earliest spring to the fall frosts.

Suet and Raisin Pudding

Add ½ cup molasses and 1 cup sour milk to 1 cup finely chopped suet. Mix and sift 2½ cups flour with 1½ teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves and ½ teaspoon salt. Add the liquid ingredients gradually to the dry ingredients, stirring vigorously. Dredge 1½ cups chopped raisins and ¼ cup currants with ¼ cup sifted flour and add to first mixture. Pour into a well-greased melon mold and steam 4 or 5 hours.

Prune Pudding

Mix 1 tablespoon butter with ¼ cup dark corn syrup, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and ½ cup hot prune juice. Moisten ½ cup stale bread crumbs with this liquid. In a greased baking dish arrange alternate layers of moistened bread crumbs and chopped cooked prunes, using in all 2½ or 3 cups of prunes. Pour a little of the liquid over each layer of prunes. Bake in moderate oven 45 minutes to 1 hour.

LIFT OFF CORNS

WITH FINGERS

Few Drops of "Freezone." Then
Corns Lift Off—No Pain!

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs so little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon any corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off with your fingers. Truly! No humbug!

RED LEADERS DESERT THE RADICALS

"SWEET MARIE" GANZ

New York.—Are the "Reds" going out of business?

"Sweet Marie" Ganz, who threatened the life of John D. Rockefeller Jr., and served time in jail for it, has renounced her allegiance to the red flag. In 282 pages of a book she is writing, "Marie" tells why she did it. "I fell in love with Nat J. Ferber," says she. "He introduced me to a kind of people I had never met before."

Then Harold Lord Varney, high priest of the "Bobbies" and an aide-de-camp of Big Bill Haywood, has deserted the radical movement. He only requires one page in a Sunday magazine section to explain matters.

Both Miss Ganz and Varney declare they are through with the "antis" for life.

Chocolate Bread Pudding

Soak 2½ or 3 cups bread crumbs in 1½ cups scalded milk. Add ¼ cup dark corn syrup or ½ cup corn syrup and ¼ cup brown sugar, 1 well-beaten egg, ½ teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Melt 2 squares or ounces of chocolate over hot water. Add 1½ cups scalded milk or hot water, stir until smooth and add gradually to crumb mixture. Turn into greased custard cups, place in pan of hot water and bake until firm in a moderate oven.

Bread Crumb Spice Pudding
Soak 1 cup dry bread crumbs in 2 cups scalded milk. Add ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup molasses, 1 egg, one-third teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon each of cloves, nutmeg, ginger and allspice and one-third cup each of steamed prunes, raisins and dates. It is not necessary to steam the prunes, raisins and dates more than 5 or 10 minutes. Mix thoroughly, turn into greased pudding dish and bake from 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Effless, Sugarless Steamed Pudding
Mix and sift 1-2-3 cups flour, ½ teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon each of cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice and cloves. Add 1 cup raisins, cut in small pieces. Mix ½ cup molasses with ½ cup milk and 1½ tablespoons lard and 1½ tablespoons butter. Stir liquid ingredients into dry ingredients and beat thoroughly. Turn into greased molds or baking powder cans, filling them not over two-thirds full. Cover and steam for 3 hours. Serve with molasses sauce or top milk.
